Our Leaders in Training Camp (L.I.T.) teaches your child the traits of a leader. The L.I.T. camp is designed to give campers independence and decision-making opportunities while being guided by our trained teaching staff. This camp will focus on growing together with other children in teams through leadership-development activities, and by practicing learned skills as volunteers at other PACCC camps and as a group. They will choose weekly destinations, create a plan of how to get there, and estimate the daily costs of each excursion. Children will also learn the life skills of navigating around Palo Alto via biking and public transportation, keeping track of their money, and managing their time while out on field trips and daily excursions. As for each planned field trip, your child will set the costs and the requirements for the group while in social interactions, which will provide them a fun-filled day.
